Girl Blocks Escape Of Condemned Slayer

LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, July 9.—A condemned wife-murderer made a sensational attempt to escape from his guards in the county building here today, but was unsuccessful because one fearless girl crossed his path. As Frank McHenry, under a death sentence, was being led back to his cell after a hearing at which legal matters were being cleared up, he placed a lead pipe, struck down his guard, ran through several rooms, knocked three stenographers to the floor and attempted to jump from a third-story window. Miss Gail McDermott, another stenographer, barred his way and fought with him until assistance arrived and he was subdued.

Tar and Feathering Followed by Arrests

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WACO, Tex., July 9.—Charges of "whitewashing" were filed against three men today, who were arrested as they were coming to trial. The men were charged with having tarred and feathered K. Cummings, the victim, said he had been warned to leave town by a note signed by "Ku Klux Klan," and that a few days ago an effort was made by masked men to take him from his home. County Attorney Tiers said today that other arrests might be expected.

Aerial Bicycle Flight Is Made; Man Power Used

By HENRY MILLER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 9.—The air bicycle has been made. Gabriel Poinlain today won the 10,000 franc prize offered for the first flight to be made in an airplane propelled by man-power.

For the first time in history, an airplane has been flown with no motive force other than that supplied by a pair of legs.

Poinlain's machine was a light, rather, hops. The longest was about 35 feet. He managed to get about three feet off the ground in making this hop. Scientists who watched him compared his performance with the first attempts at aviation when motor propelled planes trundled around on the ground with occasional little leaps into the air.

Poinlain's vehicle looks like a bicycle with planes and a propeller. To win the money he had to make a flight of more than ten yards. While the crowd looked on, he pedaled furiously along the field, finally flying clear of the ground.

Family of Five Are Sent Poison in Plum Jelly

(By United Press) COMANCH, Texas, July 9.—The revenge of a woman scorned, authorities declared, was back of the poisoning of the family of five of Mrs. Will T. Johnson here.

Miss Flora Moffitt was held, charged with having sent poison, concealed in plum jelly, to the Johnson family.

Miss Moffitt was claimed by police to be in love with Harry Johnson, a son.

When Johnson refused to marry her, Miss Moffitt tried to poison the family, authorities claimed.

Physicians said today that the poison might prove fatal to all five who ate the jelly.

Victim of Park Lunatic Dies In S. F. Hospital

Thomas Moran of Hotel West Succumbs to Blow On Head

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The victim, it is believed, of a dangerous lunatic with a mania for killing, Thomas Moran of the Hotel West, 156 Third street, died today at the San Francisco hospital.

Moran was attacked near the Japanese tea gardens in Golden Gate park, being one of two victims for the day. He was found late yesterday unconscious with a fractured skull lying in a clump of bushes by Daniel Webster, 15 years old. Near him lay a piece of lead pipe. He never regained consciousness and nothing is known of his family or connections.

Early in the day near the conservatory, Thomas James Pyke, 635 Ashbury street, was similarly assaulted. His assailant had a club which Pyke succeeded in wresting from him, causing a deep laceration on his scalp wound. Although police searched the park yesterday and today, they have been unable to find the supposed maniac.

Moran's money and personal effects were intact, so robbery could not have been the motive.

San Francisco Surgeon Claims He Has Actually Taken a Picture of Etheric Double of Body; Proves Theory?

Experiments Made With Wood Worker, Who Lost Part of Hand, Are Declared Success by Dr. P. S. Haley

Staff By WILLIAM G. CAYCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Has the human body an etheric double? Dr. P. S. Haley, local surgeon, says it has and to prove his theory announced today that he has actually photographed this etheric double.

Working on the popular impression of persons who have lost a finger or a limb that feeling still exists in the lost member, Dr. Haley conducted a series of experiments to determine whether there was a basis for this belief.

For the photographic experiment Dr. Haley used J. Lewis, a wood worker who had lost his thumb, as a subject. Lewis declared that he could feel the pain of a pin prick or pinch on the missing member, says Dr. Haley.

BLACK MAGIC IS TOLD OF IN KABER TRIAL

"Poison Queen" Takes Stand and Declares Publisher's Wife Asked Her to Use Supernatural Powers On Him

"The Devil, I Can't Wait Till He Dies," Accused Declared to Have Said of Spouse; Price Fixed for Murder

By MILDRED MORRIS, International News Service Staff.

COURT HOUSE, CLEVELAND, O., July 9.—A plot with all the flavor of a medieval crime, with its intrigue, "black magic" and "poison queen," unfolded here today when Mrs. Erminia Colavito, so-called "poison queen," took the stand in the trial of Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber, indicted for first degree murder of her husband, Daniel Kaber, the wealthy Cleveland publisher.

Mrs. Kaber wanted me to use my supernatural powers to have her husband killed," the "poison queen" testified. "She says to me about her husband, 'The devil, I can't wait until he dies.'"

The accused woman agreed to pay Salvatore Cala, who figured in the murder plot as "the man with the rap," $5000 to have his gang "kill her husband," according to the "poison queen."

"She says here husband had $50,000 insurance and she would pay him out of that," the woman testified. Cala was taken to the Kabers home by the accused woman the night before the murder to view Kaber as he lay asleep; so the assassin would not be disturbed by the police.

Mrs. Kaber herself confessed she had purchased "magic medicine" to "make her husband sick," according to the testimony of Phil Mooney, Cleveland police detective.

Mooney described the meeting of the accused woman and the "poison queen," after the former was brought back to Cleveland from New York, where she was arrested, following two years' investigation of the Kabers' murder. Mooney testified:

"Mrs. Kaber said, 'There is the woman,' when faced by Mrs. Colavito in a room in New York, and then broke down and cried."

The "poison queen," in Mrs. Kaber's presence, confessed, Mooney testified, that she had obtained "magic medicine" from her to "cure her husband of his bad habits."

Mrs. Kaber took Cala, one of the trial witnesses, to her home to kill Kaber, to her husband's bedroom the night before his murder, and showed his sleeping body to Cala.

Mrs. Kaber said she had been a peevish victim when he came the next day to do his deadly work, according to the confession of the "poison queen."

10 Million Graft Of States Funds Bared in Illinois

Report of Looting Stirs Political Circles On Eve of Inquiry.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9.—Stories of state grafting, running as high as $10,000,000, rocked Illinois political circles today on the eve of a grand jury investigation into the alleged grafts.

The inquiry, ordered by Attorney General Edward Brundage into use of state funds since 1915, threatened to strike at the political foundation of the state.

Investigation by the grand jury will go into the affairs of the state treasurer, a statement at the treasury of Len Small, present governor; Fred E. Sterling, now lieutenant governor; and Andrew Russell, state auditor.

Reports of a loan of $10,000,000 in state money to two Chicago packing firms will be investigated.

Large sums were spent in campaigns to gain the office. It pays a salary of $10,000 a year, but reports in political circles declared was worth as high as $200,000 a year.

PRESENT TREASURER WILL BE WITNESS.

E. E. Miller, present state treasurer, declared in a statement at his home at East St. Louis, that the state had not received any interest on its money during the last five months of 1920 that is said to be books when he took office. Miller will be the chief witness at the investigation.

The documents which Miller will bring into court room are guarded in a vault in a Springfield bank. Deputies assigned by Sheriff Mester stand guard over them night and day.

Charges of attempted bribery by Governor Small's appointees, made during the legislative session, will be gone into by the grand jury. Claims made by legislators that state officials offered them to vote in favor of bills favored by the administration.

Man Missing, Torn Vest Found on Beach

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—A torn vest found on a beach here yesterday was said to be the property of a man missing in search of Carl S. W. Hodener, of Los Banos, Calif., or Portland, Ore., his owner, believed that he may have met with a fatal accident.

The vest was found at midnight by an automobile party. The vest contained a bank book on a Los Banos bank, with a balance of $600; several personal notes, and a card giving his name with an address 545 1/2 First street, Portland, also papers requesting that Mrs. Louisa Hodener of Los Banos, Calif., be notified.

Strike Halts Japan's Big Naval Program

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

Kobe, Japan, July 9.—A strike has caused the closing down of the Kawasaki dockyard here, the largest in Japan, employing 20,000 men. This interrupts the construction work on the eight battleships—eight cruisers program. The striking union men are being guarded by bluejackets.

The strikers, including several thousand from the Mitsubishi shipyards at Nagasaki, which also are closed today, are demanding that flags were carried and placards displayed with the inscription "Down with capitalism."

A collision with the police occurred at one point, involving some casualties.

Two Bandits Taken; Four Are Cornered

CHICAGO, July 9.—Six automobile bandits robbed today in an outlying district of $15,000 today.

The shotgun squad from the Chicago detective headquarters cornered the bandits' machine at Lemont, Ill., after a running fight at 70 miles an hour along country roads.

Two of the men, one known as Martin Hicks, well known figure in Chicago's underworld, were captured. The money was recovered.

The other four bandits fled, but were cornered in a quarry. Dozens of police and detectives were rushed to surround the quarry in preparation for a battle.

Warfare in Ireland Is Halted; Truce to Go Into Effect Monday

Developments in Ireland as Peace Plan Is Speeded

LONDON, July 9.—Developments in the Irish situation, following announcement of a truce to go into effect at noon Monday, were as follows:

Lloyd George has accepted De Valera's proposal to meet the Republican leader and discuss the basis for a formal conference.

The Irish office has suspended all military activities.

Despatch of reinforcements to Ireland has been suspended.

British and Irish newspapers are optimistic over the probable permanent cessation of hostilities.

The only bloodshed reported was in Cork, where a former soldier was slain and a government barracks attacked. Two civilians were killed and twelve injured while they were laying a land mine.

Short Skirts and Baby Doll Socks Going to Discard

Druggists Complexions and Peek-a-Boo Waists Also Under Ban

By HAROLD D. JACOBS, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The campaign against bobbed hair and "extemporaneous blondes" in the business world is in full swing throughout the country and in addition many big employers have issued ukases against the following:

Transparent waists. Low necks. Knee-length skirts. Rolled down stockings. Drug store complexions.

This was revealed here today by Mrs. Alice Leary, who, as head of an employment agency, annually passes on the fitness of thousands of girls for office work.

There are dozens of office managers who have received the same message from a girl applying for a position, preface the usual catchism by asking her to remove her hat.

"If her complexion discloses bobbied hair or peroxide tresses, her chances for a job are gone."

Girls with short hair sometimes furnish the same objections as those with a crazy headress. With a girl sitting around in a transparent waist or an extremely low neck or knee-length skirts or rolled down stockings—or a combination of any of them—the men employed in the office find their minds or eyes on their work."

LLOYD GEORGE AGREES TO MEET DE VALERA AND LAY PEACE CONFERENCE PLANS

All Military Operations Terminated As Government and Sinn Fein Urge Peace; Curfew Abolished

CORK REPORTS BLOODSHED

(By Associated Press) DUBLIN, July 9.—The government here, in order to co-operate in providing an atmosphere, it is explained, "in which peaceful discussions may be possible," has directed the following:

"All searches by the military and police shall cease."

"Military activity shall be restricted to the support of the police in their normal civil duties."

"The curfew restrictions shall be removed."

"The despatch of reinforcements shall be suspended."

"Police functions in Dublin shall be carried on by the metropolitan police."

These directions are effective from noon today.

LONDON, July 9.—(Premier Lloyd George, it was authoritatively stated today, has accepted Eamonn de Valera's proposal of yesterday to meet the Republican leader to discuss the basis for a formal conference. The meeting will probably occur next week.

The Irish office stated this afternoon that De Valera had issued instructions to his supporters to cease all attacks upon civilians and discontinue military maneuvers of all kinds.

The instructions from De Valera, the Irish office said, also were to prohibit the use of arms, to abstain from interference with public or private property and to discontinue and prevent action likely to cause disturbance of the peace which might necessitate military interference.

The instructions, it was added, were effective from noon on Monday.

An air of the greatest optimism this morning pervaded the premier's official residence and the Irish office, where the belief was freely voiced that there was every reason to hope the bloodshed in Ireland was nearing an end.

Earl Midleton, South Irish Unionist leader, reached London this morning from Dublin, and was almost immediately received in audience by King George. It was understood he reported to the king details of yesterday's momentous conference at which the truce was arranged.

The whole country this morning was seething with talk over peace in Ireland, which was the one absorbing topic of conversation. Earl Midleton said that he and his colleagues had achieved their object at the conference yesterday and that further negotiations was a question to be discussed by Lloyd George and De Valera.

SENTIMENT IN IRELAND FAVORS SETTLEMENT.

"Sentiment in Ireland," he said, "is overwhelmingly in favor of a settlement and there is fervent hope it will be possible to arrive at a solution that will be permanent."

Lloyd George, left for Chequers Court today in company with General Jan Christian Smuts and other dominion premiers, who are in London to attend the imperial conference.

It seemed probable that during the week-end arrangements would be made for the meeting between the British prime minister and De Valera.

The London Times today expressed the belief that "the end of this trouble, ruinous to Ireland and humiliating to this country, is within measurable distance."

The Chronicle remarking on the extraordinary fact that Sir Neville Macready, military commander in Ireland, was able to drive through the streets of Dublin yesterday in full uniform and unattended, and without molestation, said:

"Here is peace, not simply in prospect, but in fact."

It expressed belief that further fighting in Ireland would be impossible, adding:

"It seems as though the last chapter of bloodshed and misery is at length closed."

Military patrols were withdrawn from the streets of Dublin last evening, says a Central News despatch from that city. Many of the police auxiliaries were walking the streets leisurely, fraternizing with civilians and discussing the prospects of peace in Ireland. The truce between the Sinn Fein and the crown forces may, therefore, be said to be already begun, although the time for commencing it officially has been set for Monday noon.

It is understood the armistice will be signed by Sir Neville Macready and Michael Collins, commander of the Irish republican army.

SAN FRANCISCO CELEBRATES ITS DIAMOND JUBILEE

Services at Portsmouth Square
Recall Flag Raising There in 1846.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The Stars and Stripes were hoisted today at Portsmouth Square, in front of the Hall of Justice, as it was hoisted there on July 9, 1846, when Captain John B. Montgomery, U. S. N., occupied the then small town, consisting of a few streets and water-front buildings. It is San Francisco's diamond jubilee in honor of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the inauguration of American rule on San Francisco bay.

At the sound of the siren on the top of the Ferry building at 10 o'clock, this morning it was 75 years to the hour since the Stars and Stripes were first hoisted here. The siren was the signal for thousands of flag raisings over the entire city. Mr. and Mrs. San Francisco did not begin their celebration proper of the diamond jubilee until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the parade, headed by soldiers, sailors and marines, accompanied by a marine band from the fleet in the harbor, marched up Market street and down Montgomery to Clay, thence to Kearny and down Kearny over the same route which Captain J. B. Montgomery, U. S. N., and his party passed on the morning of July 9, 1846, to Portsmouth Square, where the flag was hoisted and saluted by 21 guns from the sloop-of-war Portsmouth lying in the harbor, the ship after which Portsmouth Square was named.

As the parade wended its way to the square thousands of voices joined in cheering Captain Montgomery and his band, who marched as the marine band marched to play three-quarters of a century ago.

At the literary exercises at Portsmouth Square this morning those few who witnessed the flag-raising in 1846 were given places of prominence. Those too feeble to walk were brought in automobiles, while others, some of them approaching the century mark, made their walk alone to the scene of the exercises.

Downpour of Meteors on Sun Cause of Hot Spell

VALLEJO, July 9.—Due to an unusual downpour of meteors upon the sun, by which the radiation and effective surface of that body is temporarily increased, the world is experiencing one of the hottest summers in history, Professor T. J. See, government astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard, announced today. Data gathered by noted astronomers, Professor See declared, shows that the sun's radiation is variable to an appreciable degree, and that scientists in all parts of the world were studying the different planets and atmospheric conditions to ascertain the reason for the extremely warm summer.

Regarding the fall of meteors on the surface of the sun, Professor See said:

Since a mass of meteoric matter greater than our moon, is falling into the sun every century, it is probable that the downpour proceeds at a uniform rate. If it comes down in gusts under the action of the chief planets, Jupiter and Saturn, which are now near conjunction and are seen together in the evening sky, then we would have sudden increases in the sun's radiation, such as we are now witnessing all over the world.

"I was led to investigate the average amount of meteoric matter falling into the sun. It proved to be larger than had been generally supposed, making a solid layer about two meters thick all over the sun's surface in less than a century, when the matter is of the average density of the earth's crust. In a century this downpour accumulates and exceeds the total mass of our moon.

This is sufficient explanation of the unprecedentedly hot summer and is simply and directly connected with the established secular acceleration and increase of the sun's mass by meteoric downpour that public attention should be called to the nature of the cause at work. It has been at work also in all past ages, but now, for the first time by profound researchers, astronomers are able to throw some light upon a great mystery of the world."

London Papers Welcome News of Truce in Ireland

LONDON, July 9.—The result of the Dublin conference yesterday was received throughout Ireland with heartfelt joy, says the Irish Times, Unionist, today in its comment on the peace negotiations.

"A political settlement has ceased to be a vision and has become a substantial hope," continued the newspaper.

The Irish Independent, a Nationalist organ, says:

"The real negotiations between the government and the Irish Republic, leaders have yet to take place. Although there may be difficulties to be encountered, we have sincerely the international conference will be as successful as the national conference at the Mansion House."

The Freeman's Journal says the Irish peace movement is doing their preliminary work well and making progress.

"Thanks to their efforts, we are in sight of a cessation of hostilities, a permanent and honorable peace may be engendered," the paper says.

Irish Newspapers Exhibit Optimism

DUBLIN, July 9 (By the Associated Press).

The London Times declared that once active hostilities ceased in Ireland there was every reason to believe the whole atmosphere of that country would change.

Warning was given by the Daily Herald, organ of labor, that a truce was not a peace and that it would be folly to rejoice prematurely.

"The Morning Post, a conservative organ, complained of the 'humiliation' rebels have inflicted upon England," and said the British government was negotiating terms at the point of a pistol."

The London Times declared that once active hostilities ceased in Ireland there was every reason to believe the whole atmosphere of that country would change.

OLIVER IN LOVE WITH DEAD WOMAN CLAIMS COUSIN

Principals in the Royal Hotel
Killing Not Married,
Police Are Told.

A cousin of David C. Oliver, who with Mrs. Ethel Francis Vaughn was found dead at the Royal Hotel yesterday as the result of a double tragedy, today gave the police some sidelights on the tragedy.

Oliver's cousin told Inspector Wallman that Oliver, before coming to Oakland, was a searcher of records in Los Angeles. Mrs. Vaughn, the former wife of "Red" Vaughn, theatrical man, was his assistant.

According to the cousin, Oliver, who was then married and had two children, became infatuated with Mrs. Vaughn, and when the latter came to Oakland he followed her. According to the cousin, Mrs. Lily Oliver, who is the mother of Oliver's two children, the eldest of which is 19 years old, three months ago secured a divorce from her husband.

SINCE HE HAS BEEN IN OAKLAND Oliver has spent all his earnings on Mrs. Vaughn. When his money was gone, he has been living on the street, said the cousin.

Oliver's cousin as of the opinion that they were never married. The couple formerly resided at the Park View apartments, 159 Ninth street.

Police are today investigating the report that Mrs. Vaughn and Oliver were married in Seattle in August, 1918. At that time, according to Oliver's cousin, he was married to the woman in Los Angeles who divorced him three months ago.

Police inspectors investigating the double killing are yet divided in opinion as to the manner in which both Mrs. Vaughn and Oliver came to their deaths. Oliver was killed by a bullet which entered his skull from the rear. Mrs. Vaughn was shot several times in the body. Whether Oliver shot Mrs. Vaughn and then turned the gun on himself, holding it to the back of his head, or shot Mrs. Vaughn, after which she wrenched the gun from his hands and shot him in the back of the head, dying later in her own room, is a question which the police cannot decide. The majority of those investigating the case believe, however, that Oliver first shot Mrs. Vaughn and then killed himself.

MURDER ON TRAIN, BOILER EXPLOSION REMAIN MYSTERY

S. P. Unable to Account for Killing of Engineer, Attack
Made On Fireman.

EL PASO, Tex., July 9.—Officials of the Southern Pacific lines were unable to explain the murder yesterday of William Bohman, engineer, the attack on his fireman, Charles Robertson, and subsequent explosion of their locomotive attached to a freight train, near Alpine, Texas.

The train, west-bound, was toiling up the steep grade into Paisano, highest point of the road between New Orleans and Los Angeles, when a slackening of speed caused a brakeman to run forward. Before he reached the locomotive it exploded, hurling the boiler thirty feet from the track and the 200 yards away. Only the trucks of the engine remained standing on the tracks.

Bohman's body, a pistol wound in the head, was found buried in the debris. Robertson was found unconscious about four miles east of the explosion. Earl Sarman, the brakeman, said he saw a "tall, slender man in black, running away from the scene of the accident. Officers are searching for him.

Bohman's body was taken to Santa Fe, where an autopsy was held, with an open verdict resulting. Fireman Robertson told the coroner both he and Bohman noticed a man hiding a few cars back from the engine, but though he was tramp and paid no further attention to him. He said he had rolled a cigarette and was about to climb onto the seat box when he lost consciousness. He has an ugly gash on the back of his head. Both men lived at Sanderson, Texas, and as far as is known neither had an enemy.

Robertson said the crime was apparently committed by someone familiar with a locomotive, as the injectors, which supply water to the boiler, had been cut. This was the cause of the explosion, they said. No threats had been made against the company, officials said.

SANTA ROSA, July 9.—With hundreds of people participating an open air "wireless fete" was given by the Santa Rosa Republican when local wireless telephone operators connected with a concert given in San Francisco and supplied the music for dancing in the Santa Rosa streets.

The wireless dance is said to be the first given in this state.

Holcombe Is Lector

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 9.—"Human Nature and the Income Tax" is the subject of a lecture to be given here next Tuesday night by Professor Arthur N. Holcombe of Harvard University. He is a member of the Stanford political science faculty during the summer quarter. Professor Holcombe is an authority on public ownership and state government and is the author of several books on these subjects. During the war he was a member of the United States Bureau of Efficiency.

Students Give Aid

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 9.—Report of the work of the Stanford Y. M. C. A. during the past year was made here today by F. E. Morgan. It shows that Stanford students contributed over $500 to its "Stanford in China" fund. Quantities of clothes were collected by it for the Red Cross at the Palo Alto Base Hospital and for the Near East Relief. Under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. five Stanford students have been conducting a Sunday school class of 75 Mexican children at Redwood City.

Will Is Probated

TRACY, July 9.—The will of the late Peter Knollenburg, who died here June 19, has been filed for probate by Katherine Knollenburg and Mary McKenny, daughters. The estate is valued at over $10,000. The will leaves the property in trust to the widow, Mary Knollenburg. Upon her death the property goes to the two daughters. Knollenburg was a veteran of the Civil War and an old-time resident of Tracy.

FORGY FLUNKED AT STANFORD IN SPRING QUARTER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 9.—Scholarship failure was incurred by 45 Stanford students during the spring quarter, according to figures given out here today by the scholarship committee. This equals the number "flunked out" at the end of the spring quarter last year. Nearly one hundred more students were placed on probation than were last year, the figures showing 265, compared to 169 a year ago.

Probation no longer carries with it the penalty clause which kept students from participating in inter-collegiate activities. This was removed by action of the scholarship committee several weeks ago. However, the scholarship standards of the university were raised at the same time for three successive quarters will be time and any student on probation automatically dismissed from the university.

Mexico Oil Fields Disorders Cease Gen. Calles Says

Corporations Seek to Stir U. S. Animosity, Charge of War Secretary.

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—The disorders at Zackamilla, state of Vera Cruz, on Thursday, when workmen at a petroleum camp attacked oil properties in that district, have subsided and the situation there is tranquil, according to a statement by Secretary of War Calles following a telephonic conversation with General Tejeda, governor of the state of Vera Cruz.

A demonstration of Thursday was of minor character, Calles said. He characterized rumors regarding the trouble as "another attempt by oil companies to place difficulties between the United States and Mexico," asserting there was no foundation for the exaggerated rumors, inasmuch as the unemployed workmen there had given "a laudable example of discipline."

Tejeda is said to have informed the secretary that more than 12,000 men were out of work in the Vera Cruz oil fields.

Co-eds Haled From Beach to Mexican Court

MAZATLAN, Mex., July 9.—One-piece bathing suits may be a fad in California, but at Mazatlan Beach, beware, señoritas, and list to what happened to the class in archaeology of the University of Arizona.

The class, a majority of whose members are from California, is en route to Mexico City for special summer studies. It arrived Thursday at Mazatlan, a city which enjoys proximity to several fine bathing beaches, and decided to rest for a day or two.

The class promptly invaded the tropic waters of the Pacific, clad in one-piece bathing suits a la California.

Whereupon the beach patrol almost passed out from the shock. Ten minutes later the young ladies, still in bathing suits and sunburn, were lined up before the president of the municipality.

The text of an official order, which was sufficient to provide an alibi necessary for workmen, many of whom were said to be suffering from hunger. The president yesterday directed an official inquiry by General Cesar Lopez de Lara, governor of Tamaulipas, relative to the extent of the shutdown in the oil fields.

Russians Enter Stanford; Apply for Citizenship

SAN JOSE, July 9.—Two young Russians now in this country for the purpose of studying themselves in Stanford University yesterday afternoon took out their first papers in seeking naturalization at the office of County Clerk Henry A. Patridge, who provided a friendly Waripaw and Baron P. A. Bourberg.

Waripaw, a young lawyer who studied extensively in his native country, halls from Petrograd, he is a county clerk while Baron Bourberg is a physician and has his residence. They arrived recently in New York and came directly to this county, where they will take up their studies at Stanford this fall. Both are able to speak English fluently, having studied the language in Russia.

Waripaw and Bourberg both made emphatic denials that there was anything anarchistic about them when the question was propounded by the clerk.

"That is a big mistake Americans make," they stated. "You people think every Russian is an anarchist. It is not so. Many, many of us are against all revolutionary elements. That is why we are here."

Posting Voters' Ages Stirs Ire of Many Women

NORTH BROOKFIELD, Mass., July 9.—It was only 90 in the shade yesterday afternoon when the assessors posted the list of voters for the coming year. The town, but it was estimated to be 120 in the assessor's office today when it became known that each name was followed by the age.

Not satisfied with storming the assessor's office, many of the women attacked the list with erasers. The list was accepted as authority for setting many long-standing arguments as to age.

Los Angeles Official Is Killed by Stepson

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—George W. Massac, a deputy in the office of the Los Angeles treasurer, died today from a bullet wound. He was 46 years old. He was taken into custody yesterday after Massac was shot. The sheriff announced that Davis had made a statement in which he said his stepson had "rushed" him after an altercation and that he was forced to shoot in self-defense.

Actor Has No Assets

NEW YORK, July 9.—Jack Norwood, actor and producer, today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy giving his liabilities as $17,104, with no assets.

John F. Pyle, Pioneer of '46, Is Dead at San Jose

SAN JOSE, July 9.—Death yesterday, brought to a close here the long and useful life of John Francis Pyle, one of the oldest, wealthiest and best-known members of California and one of the pioneers of the fruit canning industry in this state. He passed away quietly after a long illness on the old homestead on which he had lived for the past seventy-one years, surrounded by members of his family.

Surviving the deceased were his wife, Margaret Pyle, whom he married in 1861, and three sons, F. G. and H. T. Pyle, both wealthy fruit canners of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Reseque, besides a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Since the days of '49 Pyle has been one of the leading figures in this city and county. He was born in Missouri in 1845 and the year following was brought west by his parents, who crossed the plains in 1846. The party of which his parents were a part started west with the now famous Donner party, which they separated just as it reached the high Sierras. It was this separation that saved the Pyle and Harmon families from encountering the snowstorm which proved fatal to the latter's Donner party.

The party, in which John Francis Pyle was the youngest, reached Sutter's fort, near Sacramento, in the late part of 1846 and in the winter of 1846 the Pyle family moved into the Santa Clara valley and took up vast land holdings, a part of which the deceased pioneer, by his death, will bequeath to his wife and children.

Pyle, at an early age, went into farming in Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and San Benito counties and later was one of the first to enter into the canning industry. In partnership with his two sons, Pyle's local plant grew until it is now one of the largest in the country.

Arrangements for the funeral, which will be held tomorrow, had not been fully determined upon early today. Members of the Santa Clara County Pioneers' Society, of which the deceased was a past president, will attend in a body.

'Big Tops' Will Cover Eden Township Products Exhibits

HAYWARD, July 9.—The fact that the Eden Township Farm Products Show, to be held here the 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th of August, will cover nearly twice as much ground this year than the space used in erecting the "big tops" formerly, was brought out in a discussion regarding the proposed decorative plan, at a meeting of the show association here last evening.

Decorative lighting effects as well as a scientific system of lighting will be the complete plan, once adopted by the association this year, according to a report by the arrangements committee. The first step toward erecting the show tents will be completed at once, stated Jacob Harder, chairman of this committee, in the clearing of the grounds where the fair is to be held. In line with this preliminary work the town trustees will be approached with regard to the installation of water mains and sanitary conveniences. The show association is planning to accommodate from 10,000 to 15,000 people, the number of people who have attended in former years.

Street decorations were discussed and referred to a later date. What estimates could be brought up in detail. The California State Automobile association will be asked to supply the show grounds with a sign which will be installed by the committee, along the highways leading to Hayward.

Walter H. Daniels reported that only industrial tent. Over seventy have been taken by local and outside firms, many having been sold in Oakland and San Francisco, stated Daniels.

Plans for the opening day of the Eden Township Farm Products Show were brought up for the first time at last night's meeting. The trustees are asked to declare Thursday, August 11, a half holiday. There will be a parade in Hayward on that afternoon followed by the show grounds. On the committee appointed to take charge of the parade feature of the opening day are W. T. Knightly, F. J. Peroria and W. H. Daniels.

MAN BATTLING FIRE, CRUSHED BY GIANT TREE

SANTA ROSA, July 9.—A Hendersonville died in a local hospital of injuries received in fighting a forest fire west of Guerneville late Friday.

He, with a crew of other men, was at the scene of the blazing brush when a giant tree fell, a heavy limb hitting Henderson and pinning him to the earth.

The intense heat felled Henderson worked until they lifted him from beneath the tree. He was unconscious. Dr. M. Schmeltz of Guerneville hired a truck and rushed him to Santa Rosa, where it was found his skull was fractured, both arms and legs crushed, his chest badly hurt and that he had received many deep cuts.

The fire was controlled later after a hard fight.

Lumber Mill Burns

SONOMA, July 9.—Fire starting in the boiler room destroyed the mill of the local Lumber company. The mill, with a loss of nearly $10,000. No insurance was carried. The flames threatened to spread to the sawmill. The mill was saved only after heroic efforts on the part of the sawmill crew and a force of lumberjacks.

District Governor Addresses Rotarians

RICHMOND, July 9.—At yesterday's luncheon of the Richmond Rotary club the principal speaker was Charles Billa, governor of the third district. Billa, who is a leading banker and fruit man, talked on "Service Above Self" as a motto for modern business men. Secretary, D. B. Brammer of the Y. M. C. A. gave an account of the recent boys' camp.

Melton Expert Protested

TURLOCK, July 9.—Protesting against the action of the state inspector of melons at this cantaloupe center, Turlock Local, Farmers' Union, at its last meeting ordered a letter sent to the office of W. B. Reid, chief of standardization, Sacramento, asking that a "practical melon man" be named for the position. The letter declared that Stoner lacks ability to judge melons.

Death Was Accidental

MARTINEZ, July 9.—The death of Joseph Esch, a Seattle who was drowned last week, was declared accidental by a coroner's jury which conducted an inquest here last night. Esch fell from the ship while it was docking.

PICNIC, BARBECUE TO BE STAGED BY ITALO-AMERICANS

All-Day Celebration At East Side Park Is On Card for Tomorrow.

SAN JOSE, July 9.—Members of the local Italian-American society are making the most elaborate plans in the history of their organization for the holding of the second grand annual picnic, barbecue and dance, which is to be staged all day tomorrow and tomorrow night at East Side park, committees being hard at work today putting on the finishing touches to the plan.

The largest crowd that ever attended a function of the Italian society is expected to be in attendance. M. Denegri, one of the leaders of the organization, declared today, and all preparations are being made with that thought in mind.

The celebration will start early, and a great program of athletic events of all kinds, good music, dancing, and many other forms of entertainment have been arranged for the big day. The dancing program will be held at the park tomorrow night, the committee states. Non-members of the organization are welcome and cordially invited to attend.

AGREEMENT ENDS STRIKE IN CAFES

Members of the Cooks', Waiters' and Waitresses' Union, formerly employed in the two Peoria restaurants, who walked out of the establishment last Wednesday evening, leaving patrons sitting at their tables, returned to work today following the signing of an agreement between William Spooner, secretary of Local No. 31, restaurant workers' union, and Hans Lorenzen, owner of the cafe.

Signing of the agreement ended a strike which began at 6 o'clock Wednesday last. Approximately eighty employees of both restaurants walked out in protest of a proposed 10 per cent cut in wages after William Spooner, secretary of the union, and Charles DeLong and R. S. Canfield, who had a short consultation with Lorenzen and T. Baker, proprietors of the cafes.

Richmond Library Will Be Improved

RICHMOND, July 9.—The board of trustees of the City of Richmond has been asked to appropriate $25,000 in two annual budgets to improve the public library facilities of this city. President George B. Freidenburg of the library board conveyed to the city council the statements of the union officials that he had not yet reduced the prices of his meals was untrue.

In signing the agreement Lorenzen said that the union did not want the understanding that the question of wage adjustments would be arbitrated at a meeting of the union officials and officials of the Richmond Owners' Association. Lorenzen declared he was forced to sign the agreement and take his employees back in order that he might resume business. He said that the statements of the union officials that he had not yet reduced the prices of his meals was untrue.

Vallejo Elects Delegates to Legion Meeting

VALLEJO, July 9.—N. G. Welburn, I. C. Wells, Assemblyman R. B. McPherson, E. D. Wichels, Archie Pozzi, Miss M. Daley, C. C. Larson and V. Y. Yellis have been elected as delegates by Vallejo Post No. 104, American Legion, to represent the post at the coming annual convention to be held at Yosemite the week of August 22.

Blackstone Hangs One On Mr. Demosthenes

MANTENCA, July 9.—A drink of water comes high in the mountains. One cost I. Demosthenes of 231 Twenty-fifth street, Oakland, just $2 in the Manteca justice court.

Demosthenes, whose name would indicate greater wisdom than he displayed here, was driving through town with his wife. The latter became thirsty. Demosthenes drew up at a cafe and bought a glass of water. He then obtained a glass of water. Just then Night Officer Oliver passed, observed the car parked with its nose pointing toward the water and he told the driver before Judge Douglas, "Two dollars," said Hilszner.

VISALIA WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH IN OIL EXPLOSION

Mrs. Anna T. Edminton Dead and Son Injured in Accident.

VISALIA, July 9.—Mrs. Anna T. Edminton, 34, was burned to death and her son, William Edminton, 30, was severely burned when their home here was destroyed by fire early last night. The blaze started when an oil stove on which Mrs. Edminton was preparing dinner exploded. She was completely enveloped in flames and her son was burned about the face and hands in trying to save her.

SAVES LIFE BY JUMPING.
SEATTLE, July 9.—John Forzill, a window washer, who dropped to the pavement from the third floor of an office building here yesterday, attributes his escape from more serious injuries than a broken arm and wrenched back to the fact that when he lost his balance he jumped rather than let himself fall. He landed feet first.

ACTIVITIES WOMEN

Bride-Elect Guest at Informal Tea

Miss Octavia Johnson, whose engagement to Leroy Bush of Honolulu has been announced, was the guest of honor this afternoon at an informal tea at which Miss Aileen Mason presided as hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Mason in Ward street. There were forty guests assembled. Miss Johnson was graduated from the University of California with the class of '21.

July 20 Miss Johnson is to share the honors with Miss Lillian Suydam of Alameda at a tea for which the Misses Edith and Leah Corde have sent out invitations. Both honor guests are members of the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

MISS RUTH SCHLUETER, who will leave for the Yosemite Valley July 15 for a month's sojourn. She will stop at Wawona, where her school friend, Miss Rosalind Cassidy, is on her vacation. (Boye Portrait)

MOTOR THROUGH THE SOUTH.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Francis Sutton, whose marriage took place at high noon Wednesday, are in Southern California on their honeymoon. Following their return north they are to reside in Eureka.

The wedding was one of the smart home affairs of the week with the D. M. Stewart home in Forest avenue as the setting. Rev. William R. Jenvey, vicar of the Church of the Good Shepherd, officiated.

The bride's gown was of the ivory satin with pearl embroidery and a fishu of Carrick-ma-cross lace. A bandeau of pearls caught the bride's eyes in place with clusters of orange blossoms holding the veil in graceful drapes. Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley were combined in the shower bouquet.

Miss Carroll Frederick was maid of honor for her sister and Philip Sutton best man for his brother. Sutton is a grandson of Mrs. Jones Sutton and a nephew of Miss Maud Sutton of Berkeley.

VISIT HERE FROM SOUTH.

Guests of the Ralph Warners in Piedmont are Mrs. Walter Perkins and her young daughter Annabel, who are here from their home in Riverside to escape the warmer weather. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins are soon to reside at San Jose where they will go at the conclusion of the young matron's visit in this city.

Mrs. J. K. Harvey and her small son and the nurse have gone to Lake Tahoe. They have been the guests of the W. I. Wilsons in this city for the past week. They will remain at the lake for several weeks. The Har-veys are now making their home in Modesto.

VACATIONISTS AT STANISLAUS FOREST.

Oakland Recreation Camp in the Stanislaus National Forest is the mecca for many Eastbay people. Among the numerous visitors at the camp over the week-end of the Fourth were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anloff, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Dush, Yudin Sturtevant, Elmer Danielson, James Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. P. Scoville, Doris Scoville, Clyde Scoville, Mrs. Remington, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Morrill, Esther Morrill, Grace I. Morrill, Harvey Morrill, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mosher, Miss Sue Irwin, George Irwin, H. B. Jones and James Gillette.

Last week a large party from Oakland Recreation Camp was organized to take the interesting trip on the Hetch Hetchy railroad to Hetch Hetchy valley, where the whole project for supplying water for the city of San Francisco was thoroughly explained. Among those who enjoyed this trip were: Mrs. H. Blume, Mrs. Goebels, Mrs. B. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Sara C. O'Toole, Rose Mikulaski, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Richardson, Robert Richardson, Marie Francis, Feela Reinking, Ruth Pawcett, Christine Christiansen, Edith M. Gader, G. G. ### Episcopal Delegates Of Eastbay Organize Delegates from the various Episcopal churches of the Eastbay met at St. John's parish house, Thursday, and formed an organization to promote the establishment of chapters of The Daughters of the King, in the parishes of Alameda county. Miss Maudie Putnam was elected president and Miss Constance Lake, vice-president.

The meeting was under the able leadership of Mrs. Sidney Morgan of Seattle, Wash., president of the Council of the Daughters of the King in the diocese of Olympia.

STATE INVENTORIES ASKED.

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—All institution and department heads affected by the state reorganization government bills were instructed by the state board of control to submit inventories of all funds, property, accounts and expenditures for examination by the new department of finance not later than July 30, when the laws become effective.

BOY STRUCK BY HANDCAR.

SANTA ANA, July 9.—Ramon Zuniga, 9-year-old boy, was seriously injured here as a result of being struck by a handcar operated by section hands on the Pacific Electric Railway line. He had gone to bring home the cows, but got tired coming back, he said, and went to sleep on the railway track.

Two Badly Burned At Yellowstone Geyser

OGDEN, Utah, July 8.—Mrs. Henry Cendagorta, wife of an Ogden business man, was severely scalded Sunday at Yellowstone park when she stumbled and fell into a hot pot near Old Faithful geyser, and Dr. Mario Isenada of San Francisco was painfully burned in dragging her from the water. It was learned yesterday when Mrs. Cendagorta was brought to an Ogden hospital for treatment.

OAKS DROP A GAME BUT STILL LEAD THE SEALS IN SERIES

BIGGEST YACHT RACE OF THE SEASON WILL BE SAILED OVER THE BAY COURSE TOMORROW

MAURY RATH & CO. ENTERTAIN THE FANS WITH FLOSSY FIELDING

Wonderful Support Saves O'Doul When He Yields Hits in the Pinches.

By EDDIE MURPHY

It was the Seal's turn yesterday to celebrate, so the Oaks suffered an 8-to-0 whitewash. However, they still have the edge on the series by one game. Somebody must have wished a rabbit's foot on Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, for the crooked-arm chucker was lucky to go the full route in spite of the one-sidedness of the score. The Oaks had their turn in putting up a great fielding exhibition on Thursday, and it was because it was the Seal's turn yesterday that O'Doul was lucky. The Oaks are credited with getting eight hits off him, but they were robbed of that many more in the course of the nine innings, and generally when men were on the bases. In the second inning, Manager Charley Graham was ready to yank O'Doul when two runners were on the bases, after Miller hit a single and Willie a double. Louie Guisto crashed one that was labeled two bags, but Maury Rath leaped high into the air and pulled the ball down with his gloved hand.

It was as spectacular a catch as has been made in the history of the two local diamonds this season, and Knight was doubled off second. Hadn't he gotten away from Maury Rath, he would have been yanked and chased to the showers, and it might have meant a different ball game altogether.

Seals Play Their Best Seal Behind Frank O'Doul.

The Oaks attempted to start an early rally in the fourth and Willie O'Doul singled in a row, only to have Jimmy O'Connell make a barehanded stop of Knight's bounding shot away from Maury Rath. In the seventh, and then two batters followed with hits in the eighth inning, Bert Ellison scored one hand Cooper's line drive that was about to bound off the right field fence. The Oaks did enough heavy hitting to win almost any ball game, but the Seals were having an unusually good day in the field, and four Oakland pitchers including Ernie Allen, George (Lefty) Winn, Valentine (Lefty) Guisto, and Maury Rath were far from being in good form. A couple of Seals said the other day that they don't know why it is but that the San Francisco club plays a better fielding game when O'Doul is in the mound than when any other pitcher is in the box. O'Doul puts a lot of stuff on the ball, but the Oaks certainly crashed said ball, but was only that brilliant support given O'Doul that beat them.

BEAVERS SPLIT IN TWO GAMES WITH THE COYOTES.

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—The Beavers and Coyotes played two games here yesterday, the Beavers winning the first by a 6 to 5 score, and the Coyotes the second, 10 to 5. Each club got twelve hits in the first game, but the Beavers hit for the largest total number of bases. Ross, the Portland pitcher who was relieved by Pilleite, hit a home run. Canfield, the Chico high recruit, relieved Prough in the box and was charged with the defeat.

Pilleite also worked for the Beavers in the second game and was given a 2 to 5 defeat. Kuntz, the Sacramento pitcher, hit a home run. The score:

Iowa State Golf Championship Will Be Decided Today

SIoux CITY, Ia., July 9.—"Rudy" Knepper, the half-over 30 champion, and Robert McKee, of the Grandview Country Club of Des Moines, are the two contenders in the present trans-Mississippi champion, will battle for the state title in the championship of Iowa, which is being held at the Iowa Country Club here today. Knepper went into the finals yesterday by his defeat of Arthur Bartlett of Ottumwa. McKee defeated W. Ingham, of the Des Moines Country Club, in every match in which McKee and Knepper have met here. Both players will have a large following in the match.

GARDNER HOLDS SALT LAKE TO 6 SINGLES.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 9.—Harry Gardner, the Seattle pitcher, was in fine pitching form yesterday and held the hard hitting Bees to six hits, while his teammates did the rest to give him a 5 to 1 win. Rudy Kallio pitched for the Bees and was given poor support, three of the runs being scored on errors. A very noticeable feature of the game was the failure of any extra base-hits to be made. The score:

FRENCH'S SINGLE HELPS TIGERS TRIM ANGELS.

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—The Vernon Tigers made it three wins in a row over the Angels by defeating them yesterday, 3 to 2. Again the winning tally was put across in the ninth inning. Tony and the Angels were hooked in a pitching duel with "Doc" Crandall of the Angels. Crandall really pitched the best game, but the breaks were with Tony who was given fine support. Crandall tried to outfox the Tigers in the ninth inning after Hyatt had started off with a triple, he walked two batters to fill the bags, hoping that he might prevent any scoring. But Ray French, who was on the field of free walks by cracking out a single that scored Hyatt with the winning run. The score:

FAST SLOOPS READY FOR CHALLENGE RACE IN THE BAY TOMORROW

Machree and Bob Will Draw Out Thousands of Yachting Enthusiasts Going Over Line

For the first time since 1918, yachting fans will tomorrow have the opportunity to cheer for their favorite sloops in a race for the Perpetual Challenge Cup. The cup is now resting in the quarters of the San Francisco Yacht Club, the Machree owned by John R. Hanify of that club being the winner of the race in 1918. The Bob, owned by Frank Stone, looking spic and span, is resting on the ways at the foot of Twentieth avenue, in East Oakland, ready to be released to the waters and slip out the estuary tomorrow morning to be the Corinthian Club's representative in the race against the Machree.

As it is the first race in three years for the cup, unusual interest is being shown. The course is over a distance of thirteen miles and will start exactly at 12:25 from Fishermen's wharf. From Fishermen's wharf, the course will be as follows: The upper of the two channels, the Bob and the Machree will be the skippers of the two sloops. The Machree will be the skippers of the two sloops. The Machree will be the skippers of the two sloops.

ANGELERS NOOK

The following reports on fishing conditions in the Feather River district were gathered by the Western Fishery. Belden—River low and clear, excellent fishing, limit easily caught. Grasshoppers and belamites most successfully used. Patten—Fishing conditions have improved considerably during the past week. The streams are clearing and the water lowering. Spanish Creek is now good for steel as is Indian Creek above Taylorville. Not much to be had below that point. Lake Alamosa—Chutes are improving and some large fish, weighing from four to seven pounds have been taken during the past week. Water lower. Still a large volume of water moving over the dam. The water in North Fork and water is too high for best results in steelhead fishing. Pugs—Weather conditions are excellent. Water in the Feather River is at summer level and there are no signs of a fall. The water have been too low for anybody this last week.

Race Promises To Be Closest On Record

That the race promises to be one of the most closely sailed for the Perpetual Cup, is indicated in the fact that only a time allowance of thirty-five minutes is allowed for the race. The cup has been at stake each year since 1895, with the exception of the year 1918, when the conditions were so bad that the race was not sailed. The conditions were so bad that the race was not sailed. The conditions were so bad that the race was not sailed.

Baseball Gossip

The Oaks attempted to start an early rally in the fourth and Willie O'Doul singled in a row, only to have Jimmy O'Connell make a barehanded stop of Knight's bounding shot away from Maury Rath. In the seventh, and then two batters followed with hits in the eighth inning, Bert Ellison scored one hand Cooper's line drive that was about to bound off the right field fence. The Oaks did enough heavy hitting to win almost any ball game, but the Seals were having an unusually good day in the field, and four Oakland pitchers including Ernie Allen, George (Lefty) Winn, Valentine (Lefty) Guisto, and Maury Rath were far from being in good form. A couple of Seals said the other day that they don't know why it is but that the San Francisco club plays a better fielding game when O'Doul is in the mound than when any other pitcher is in the box. O'Doul puts a lot of stuff on the ball, but the Oaks certainly crashed said ball, but was only that brilliant support given O'Doul that beat them.

BRITISH TACTICS

London hints that the British government is about to make an informal proposal that the United States, Japan and Great Britain enter into a comprehensive discussion of the whole Far Eastern situation as it involves these three nations. This announcement, for which there is no official sponsorship, but which officialdom does not deny, is itself a feeler to ascertain, if possible, what response may be expected at Washington. If signs are not favorable, nothing more may be attempted at the present.

Frequently semi-official information from London, as elsewhere, does not prove reliable. For example, it was reported a few days ago that the British government had kept the United States government fully informed as to the progress of discussions between Britain and Japan on the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Upon the publication of this report the State Department at Washington considered it fitting to deny that it had received any information at all from Great Britain on the subject.

So it may follow, in connection with the latest report that Mr. Lloyd George will seek to open conversations with this country and Japan on all the problems in the Pacific basin, that circumstances are not favorable to carrying out his purpose. There is a deep suspicion that Mr. Lloyd George and members of his cabinet are playing a little politics with the conference of imperial premiers now being held in London. Premier Meighen of Canada and General Smuts of South Africa are opposed to a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Moreover they want that alliance terminated as soon as possible. Finding opposition to renewal existing in the conference, the home government has sought to postpone consideration of the subject.

Accordingly, Lord Birkenhead has rendered an opinion that the denunciation of the agreement by Lord Curzon, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, of some months ago, because it did not conform to the letter and spirit of the League of Nations covenant, was not in fact a denunciation at all; that the alliance will continue in full force as it now stands until twelve months after notice of renunciation is given by one of the contracting parties. This view has the effect of giving another year of life to a military alliance which the British government already has confessed does not conform with the League of Nations. It will give the Tories of the government another year of manipulation, during which public sentiment may be modified as to the objectionable character of the alliance.

If it is true that Mr. Lloyd George will seek to open an exchange of views between England, Japan and the United States on the situation in the Pacific he probably intends this as another device to bring about delay in reaching a decision on the subject of the alliance. The idea of such a joint conference is not objectionable, per se, to the United States. This country would rather welcome the prospect of a frank and sincere exchange of views with the other powers having interests in the Pacific area. But it would be much more graceful on the part of the British prime minister if he could find a way to suggest or seek such a conference after the renunciation of the Anglo-Japanese military alliance.

Mr. Lloyd George probably desires to have the alliance handy as an added diplomatic advantage when the discussions are held, if they are held. It seems to be a rule of his statesmanship to stand with Japan against the United States in controversies over East Asia questions. Perhaps the Oriental fellowship in ways that are secretive and dark appeals to him with greater force than American directness and frankness. He would like to open such a trans-Pacific conference as suggested with his Oriental ally at his side. That is the way of the old, hateful system of secret diplomacy which Great Britain and Japan still prefer and pursue.

It is therefore well for the United States to be on its guard. Fortunately the American State Department is quite competently officered at present. Mr. Hughes and his able corps of assistants are thoroughly informed as to both the subjects which might be brought up for discussion and the methods of Great Britain and Japan in such connection. Still it might be the better policy to repulse the interference of Great Britain in questions which are issues solely between the United States and Japan and to exclude Japan from all discussions in which only the United States and Great Britain are interested.

There is no call for this country to enter into formal relations with the Anglo-Japanese military alliance. And so long as that alliance is in existence it cannot possibly be held the safe course to tolerate a suggestion from either England or Japan for limitations in armament.

DISTURBANCES IN MEXICO

It is not possible to estimate at this time the seriousness of the troubles in the Tampico district in Mexico. Official authority at Mexico City is inclined to make light of the situation, and finds nothing abnormal in late events. On the other hand, Washington shows its apprehension by sending two American warships to the harbor of Tampico to guard American lives which are feared to be in danger.

Granted that the United States government does not rush naval forces to the waters of another nation unless there appears strong reason for doing so, it must be assumed that elements of serious danger are in evidence at Tampico. Two American citizens are reported to have been killed by Mexican "robbers." It is always robbers or outlaws that kill foreigners in Mexico until investigation proves otherwise. By this method the Mexican government escapes responsibility as long as possible. It really appears, however, that the present assault upon foreigners in Tampico has been committed by lawless elements and that the central government is attempting everything reasonably to be expected to preserve order and afford protection to lives and property.

Mexico must be charged, however, with responsibility for the creation of conditions in which peaceful relations are again menaced. It is another case of dalliance and manana. Despite the repeated assurances of President Obregon that he was anxious to do everything possible to bring the constitution and laws of Mexico into conformity with recognized rights of foreign citizens in Mexico, nothing has been done toward achieving such a result. The confiscatory clause of the Carranza constitution still stands.

On top of this the Mexican government has just decreed that foreign oil companies shall pay a heavy export tax on all products shipped out of Mexico. This tax is more than most of the companies, including the American concerns, find it practicable or elect to pay. Consequently many of the plants have been shut down. Tens of thousands of native workers have been thrown out of employment. Idleness and privations that follow in the wake of idleness make for disorder, quite naturally.

To this extent the Obregon government is to be blamed for the present Tampico situation. It is not to be assumed that the Mexican government is obligated to accede to every demand made upon it by foreign governments or citizens. But it was its duty to correct intolerably unjust situations, illegal situations under which the ordinary relationships with foreign governments was impracticable.

There seems to be no great danger of another change of administration in Mexico or any immediate menace to the peaceful relations between Mexico and this country. But there must inevitably be some apprehension as to whether the present disturbed condition at Tampico is not another sign that all Mexican governments are more or less unreliable—that they all have elements of weakness which at any time may develop into fatal defects.

In considering the question of abolishing or setting limitations on capital punishment it probably would be incorrect to conclude that those who would reduce the wages of sin are looking to the future with thoughts of self.

AMERICANS AT DANTE'S GRAVE

Carrying with them the tribute of American students to the name and genius of Dante, some 160 young Americans, undergraduates for the most part in our universities and colleges, sailed this week from New York for Italy, to attend the fete commemorating the 50th anniversary of Dante's death, and to place in the poet's tomb at Ravenna, a memorial wreath. This delegation, so broadly representative of our academic life, has the distinction of being the first official delegation of American students to Italy, and because of this fact, the Italian Government is preparing to extend to it, on its arrival, an official welcome. Quite appropriately, the members of the party are mostly drawn from admirers of the romance languages, and the fact that interest in the Dante commemoration is being manifested so widely proves the reality of the great Italian poet's hold on the youth of twentieth-century America.

But Dante's hold on young America is a virile and a vital, not a merely academic hold. In spite of his mediæval cosmogony, and the darkness under which he labored, the truths which he expressed were ever-lasting truths, and his point of view as catholic as it was fundamentally modern. As poet, as philosopher, as guide and preceptor to man upon his earthly pilgrimage, Dante belongs to all the ages, and not merely to the Italy of the fourteenth century, torn asunder by the fratricidal strife of the Guelphs and Ghibellines. In America, his fame has long burned with a bright and steady light. Lowell and Longfellow were among the earliest and most enthusiastic of his followers on this side of the Atlantic; and their work in interpreting the writings of Dante has been carried on by bands of devoted scholars not alone at Harvard but at many other American universities.

Yet Dante inspires our reverence and quickens our imagination, not only because of his achievements as scholar, as poet, and as a philosopher, but also, and no less certainly, because he was at once the prophet and the personification of Italian nationalism. One of the half-dozen poets of the first rank, he is at the same time one of the commanding figures in the evolution of Italian nationality. And it is an eminently fitting thing that lovers of Italian literature, language and civilization in our universities, legion in number, should through a representative delegation, bow in homage before his grave. ## NOTES and COMMENT

The Automobile Association is a power as to road improvement. It has done much to induce road work, and now it is feeling that the work is honest, that the immense funds that have become available for that purpose are not in part wasted. Watchfulness seems to be very necessary. Those who travel in automobiles realize that lives may be at stake as a result of scamped work, and hence the keen lookout that is kept on construction.

The more that is disclosed of the life and affairs of the late Franklin K. Lane, the greater the respect that is accorded his personality—that quality that betokens a sympathetic, loyal and unselfish character. Notwithstanding his opportunities as a high official, in a position where he could have accumulated even legitimately, and where limitless chances must have existed for gain on lines less strict, his estate is found not to exceed $10,000.

How different it is now from the way it was then is suggested by a 25-years-ago item which tells that "The Railroad Commission began its fight against the Market Street Railroad Company to bring it under the jurisdiction of the board." We have got somewhere as to railroad control since that time.

When the President of the Philippine Senate said that he would prefer a government "run like hell by Filipinos to any kind of a government run by Americans," he probably expressed the desire of those who are clamoring for independence. The question remains as to whether the sentiment of the responsible element, which may not be explosive like that.

The man who recently arrived from India with a consignment of pythons, gorillas and miscellaneous reptiles, has offered to sell them to San Francisco, explaining the wonderful chance it is to start a zoo. It is realized that he will possess a high-class quality of salesmanship if he places the goods.

How motion picture actors brave dangers is illustrated by the death of Billy Ritchie from injuries received from an ostrich which he was trying to film. Ostriches are notoriously obstinate, but it was not understood that they were so blindly opposed to film work as to become murderous. It illustrates their wide divergence from humans.

The Duponts are generally considered to be a high office to be given out in Delaware. They constitute a family that perpetuates its business and political qualities. The appointment of one who has not heretofore been familiar in connection with national affairs to the United States Senate to fill a vacancy attests this fact.

The appointment of Mr. Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento and Miss Anne Martin of Nevada to Federal offices are exceptional, and are not to be accepted as indices of a break in the California deadlock. Mr. Johnson is the father of Senator Johnson, and Anne Martin enjoys a setting in a State where things are not tense.

The late Mrs. Pullman left an estate of $3,474,333. Everybody is so busy that it would be more difficult to find time for reflection that probably it is only the name that has persisted in connection with certain experiences met with in traveling, and that those who bear it do not participate in the enterprise which made the name famous.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

A bunch of officials under the biological department of the Bureau of Agriculture are carrying on official rat-killing campaigns at some harbor cities. We have official squirrel killing campaigns at some harbor cities, official chipmunk exterminations, official wolf chasers and bobcat hunters, all on Uncle Sam's payroll. Doubtless some of these do a lot of good. But talk about reducing taxation is folly so long as the government insists on branching out in all sorts of things like these.—Salinas Index.

Mrs. O. Anderson, who resides at the lighthouse on Roe Island, found a check for $1000 in a bottle. The check was dated 1906, and had a note on the back of it stating that the boat in which the writer was sailing was sinking, and that the finder might have the money. The check was drawn by a San Francisco bank. Mrs. Anderson expects to present it this week to test whether it is a joke or not.—Bay Point News.

A bill pending in Congress would oblige the members of the House to open proceedings every morning by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner." Regardless of the artistic result, it might be an improvement over the usual star-spangled oratory.—Marysville Appeal.

Every year Californians turn more and more to the great outdoors for their vacations, riding the mountain and seashore roads with long winding lines of every kind of vehicle, loaded with children, dogs, stoves, beds, guns and what not.—Sacramento Bee.

There is, and will be for a long time, a shortage of houses in every growing town in the State. Those who might build are looking for some reduction in the cost of labor and material, and especially the latter.—Watsonville Register.

No aliens have applied for registration in Lake county to date. It is estimated that there are from 25 to 50 aliens in the county who will have to pay tax. So far as is known there are no Japs.—Ukiah Press.

A report of the injury office on Mare Island in the first six months of 1921 shows that of over 1000 employees on Mare Island less than three are injured monthly.—Vallejo Chronicle.

THE TRANSBAY BRIDGE

To the Editor of The Tribune:

I have been deeply interested in the arguments for the bridge across the bay, to which Oakland is to contribute $20,000,000. For that small sum we take the bridge three miles southwest of the city and land near the Twin Peaks in San Francisco, three miles west of the business district and four miles west of the waterfront. The exercise alone is worth the money. One spokesman for Oakland wants the bridge because it will draw the population of San Francisco to this side of the bay. Of course that is why San Francisco wants it and is willing to pay half the cost for the privilege of walking dry shod to the American continent.

Now I object to the bridge and am willing to tell why. It is planned to start from the peninsula of San Francisco, come easterly and stop on the island of Alameda. Therefore it obsolesces and destroys the Alameda naval base and will drive that base either to the San Francisco side or to Mare Island. This is exceedingly distasteful to me. It is only a brief eight weeks since our naval base before the Senate of the United States and our two Senators, Shortridge and Johnson, both from San Francisco, made speeches for it that will live in history. Who can forget their sleepless vigilance and the topographical, geographical, maritime and deep water facts that glistered in their arguments like the tower in the nose of the royal Afghan lady who lately crossed the Pacific second class to a reception by Mayor Rolph.

Therefore I ask, cannot the population of San Francisco, that is madly struggling to reach this side of the bay, get here without destroying our Alameda naval base? JNO. P. IRISH, Oakland, July 8.

WILLFUL LASS MAY YET BE 'BIG LAWYER'

Opal Richardson, Who Has Defied Ventura Officials, Is Offered Home With Rich
Woman; Must Make Good

Opal Richardson, 17-year-old, red-haired Irish girl, who has baffled the courts of the state and the California School for Girls at Ventura because she refuses to behave, although she is by no means vicious or immoral, may have her chance to shine as a great lawyer, after all. Superior Judge J. C. Robinson, who committed Opal to the Ventura school more than six months ago, has received word that Mrs. Angela C. Kaufman, a wealthy woman of 270 South Raintail Boulevard, Los Angeles, has become interested in the girl and wishes to take her into her home.

Mrs. Kaufman, who has studied the case thoroughly and who interviewed Opal when the latter was in the psychopathic ward of the Los Angeles county hospital, where she had been sent by the Ventura institution, declares she believes she can manage the girl and that if she is not taken in hand in time her life may be ruined.

MAY HAVE CHANCE.
Judge Robinson said today that if the youngest makes good on her return to the Ventura school, he probably will grant her permission later on to become the ward of the southern woman, as he is anxious to save her to society and make possible the career she believes she can manage.

Opal is the oldest of nine children. Kept constantly at home, where she was forced to care for the younger brothers and sisters, she is alleged to have been neglected and even mistreated. When they did not do as she wished, also, she was willful, though there is not the slightest suggestion that she has ever been delinquent. When her parents sought the aid of the juvenile court Probation Officer Ollie F. Snediger sent her first to one family, then to another in Alameda county. In each home the attempt to control her was a failure. She possessed a spirit of wanderlust, a determination to have her own way and a great ambition to become famous as a speaker and sometimes to act.

REBELS AT SCHOOL.
When Judge Robinson sent her to Ventura she thought it was for only six months. At the end of that time, she rebelled. From there, no definite sentences in the juvenile court and that she might be kept there until 21, she rebelled. She refused to work, to get out of bed to speak and sometimes to eat. The school authorities finally sent her back to Alameda county, saying they would not keep her.

Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell, sitting for Judge Robinson, questioned the girl, and in response to one statement of the judge, she blurted out:

"You're a d—!"

Judge Kinsell ordered her returned to Ventura, saying that if the school there could not handle her it should go out of business.

The girl is still a guest of Sheriff Frank Barnett at the county jail, where she is held awaiting the making out of the documents necessary to send her back to the southern school.

Petaluma Girl Back in Berkeley For Summer Class

MISS HULDA SEISS, of Petaluma, who has returned to Berkeley for the summer session.

Miss Hulda Seiss Active in Campus and Sorority Affairs.

BERKELEY, July 9.—Following her graduation from the University of California with the class of 1920, Miss Hulda Seiss of Petaluma has returned to Berkeley to enroll in the summer session. Miss Seiss took an active part in the affairs of the campus during her college years, and during her senior year was prominent in the affairs of her class.

A member of the Delta Zeta sorority, she was popular in inter-sorority social affairs and made many friends here. A number of social affairs have been planned for her in the next few weeks by her former classmates.

TOPPLING BOXES AND SMALL BOY COMPOSE COMEDY

ALAMEDA, July 9.—He was only about four years old and not very large for his age as he staggered along Santa Clara avenue with two rows of empty collar boxes piled high in his arms. A dozen boxes is a clumsy load even for a man. Half way down the block, just as he came abreast of a kindly-faced, motherly-looking woman, the boxes toppled over and scattered all across the sidewalk. She helped him gather them up, piling them in his arms as they had been, and went on.

At times he worked the same trick before the pert-up laughter at his mischief bubbled up and spoiled his joke. He was piling up his boxes preparatory for another stunt when a policeman walked past and very suddenly he gathered them up and disappeared around the corner in fear of the arm of the law.

Trixie Friganza in Court; Case Set Over

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Trixie Friganza was before Superior Judge Cushman today in her efforts to collect $3050 as the result of her "Poor Man's" engagement last year. The defendant, Thomas O'Day, was on hand and the case was continued one week. Trixie, laughing gaily, left the courtroom on the arm of her own attorney and that of her adversary.

"I think the best way to settle this is to have 'Poor Mamma' reviewed," was all she said.

BATTERY WARRANT ISSUED.
BERKELEY, July 9.—A warrant charging battery was issued today by Police Judge Edgar for the arrest of J. D. Alexander of a cleaning and dyeing establishment at Fourth and Broadway, Oakland. He is accused by Joseph Greenstone, 2109 Virginia street, with having struck him in the face with his fist.

ALAMEDA AND S. P. MEN TO TALK PEACE

Conference Is Called for Tomorrow in Hopes of Effecting Settlement in Dispute Over the Train Reduction

ALAMEDA, July 9.—A compromise between the city of Alameda and the Southern Pacific company is expected tomorrow morning when representatives of the city and the company meet in the office of City Manager C. E. Hickok. At a meeting today of city officials it was decided to ask the representatives of the company to meet with the mayor, city manager and city council in an attempt to effect a compromise.

The struggle between the city and company was precipitated when the Southern Pacific company announced that it was going to abandon the 5:46 train and boat to San Francisco from the Alameda pier in the early morning and the 11:15 a. m. clock boat from San Francisco to Alameda.

More than a score of residents have been assisting Mayor Frank Otis and City Manager Hickok for the past month in attempting to adjust the differences. Several hundred letters protesting the abandonment of the service are on file in the city manager's office.

According to Mayor Otis, the railroad company has offered to compromise with the city by running a train from Alameda starting at Pacific street station, through Oakland by the Fourteenth street depot to the Oakland mole. While Mayor Otis did not say that he would fight such a compromise, he intimated that the council and protesters would demand retention of service over the Alameda pier.

BERKELEY FILES PROTEST WITH BOARD.

BERKELEY, July 9.—The city today lodged a protest with the State Railroad Commission against the proposed curtailment of service of the Southern Pacific company between San Francisco and Alameda county points effective Sunday, July 17.

Similar protests have already been filed by Alameda.

According to the complaint filed by City Attorney Cornish, the proposed curtailment is objected to particularly by reason of the necessity for transferring passengers at Shellmound station. It is charged that this depot is an extremely dangerous transfer point by reason of the heavy traffic and that due to its isolation and loneliness it is particularly objectionable to unaccompanied women and children who may be forced to use it at night.

ECONOMY PLEA DISPUTED.

The company's plea of economy is declared unjustified in view of increased fares and steadily growing patronage. It is admitted that particularly hardships will be entailed on the district served by the Ninth street line as this line gives the residents their only electric service between San Francisco and Berkeley, not being duplicated by the Key Route.

The proposed schedule to which objection is made is as follows: The 40-minute ferry service will begin at 7 o'clock instead of 8:20 p. m. as heretofore, including Saturday and Sunday evenings, which hitherto have had a 20-minute schedule.

Passengers from San Francisco for Berkeley via the Ninth street and California street lines will take the 10:15 a. m. train to Oakland pier and transfer at Shellmound for their respective stations except during the rush hours between 4:30 and 5:40 p. m. and between 7:10 and 8:50 a. m., except Sunday, when trains will run through to the mole as at present.

A 1:20 a. m. boat from San Francisco will connect with two trains, the Oakland Seventh street line and the Berkeley Shattuck avenue line.

Bird Lover Seeks Return Of Her Pet Green Canary

STORIES of birds, dogs and cats that have escaped familiar scenes and have been returned by persons who have read of the trouble, have brought to Mrs. M. Lory, 497 Forest street, the hope that her green canary may yet come back.

"He slipped out of his cage," says Mrs. Lory, "and flew into the tall trees back of the house. I was certain that he would come back, but being very ill, was unable to watch for him."

Mrs. Lory has read about a butcher bird that flew into a house to kill a canary and has also read about a number of boys and girls who have had their pets returned when stories were published in the newspaper. She thinks some one may have taken the bird in.

"I am not a little boy or girl," she writes, "I am a grandmother who loved her bird."

ELK CLUB PLAN TO SAVE ELKS IS IDEA AT REUNION

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Establishment of a great game refuge for elk near Bend, Ore., will be urged of the B. P. O. Elks' Grand Lodge reunion here next week. Monroe Goldstein, head of the advance guard of the Oregon Elks' delegation, announced today.

The struggle between the elk and company was precipitated when the Southern Pacific company announced that it was going to abandon the 5:46 train and boat to San Francisco from the Alameda pier in the early morning and the 11:15 a. m. clock boat from San Francisco to Alameda.

More than a score of residents have been assisting Mayor Frank Otis and City Manager Hickok for the past month in attempting to adjust the differences. Several hundred letters protesting the abandonment of the service are on file in the city manager's office.

'BRANDY CAR' LEAK STARTS 'RING' QUEST

Additional Arrests Expected
With Identification of the Owner of Car Seized On Road With Load of Liquor

What United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardy believes to be an extensive liquor ring, the members of which are alleged to be transporting liquor from Marin county through Oakland into San Francisco, may be uncovered with the identification of an automobile seized on Thursday morning, when Leo M. Steward and Jack Wise were arrested and accused of transporting fifty gallons of jackass brandy.

The automobile, seized by liquor leaking out of the machine, when one of the glass containers broke, Marshal John Glavinovich of Albany was standing near the machine when it stopped and, seeing the liquor flowing out, arrested the men.

This morning both men were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hardy on charges of violating the national prohibition act. Steward was held to answer to the United States District Court, and his bail was set at $500. The case of Wise was continued until Tuesday.

Wise on the witness stand said that he had been in Santa Rosa looking for a position as a waiter. In coming home he took the San Rafael ferry across the bay, where he met Steward and asked him if he would give him a ride into Oakland, which he did. At Albany one of the containers broke. Steward took the witness stand and verified Wise's testimony in detail. But when his own case was called before the commissioner's his attorney refused to let him take the stand.

Commissioner Hardy is of the opinion that this machine, which was confiscated, is being used to transport the liquor from here to San Francisco. No identification card was found in the auto and the enforcement officers wired the state motor vehicle department for the name of the machine's owner.

Clear Skies, Fog Absence Rule in June

BERKELEY, July 9.—June was a month in which temperatures prevailed above normal, according to the monthly meteorological summary for Berkeley issued today by the department of geography of the University of California.

The summary says the month was further marked by "great differences between the mean temperatures of successive days, with unusually clear skies, absence of fog, scarcity of high fog (stratus), with a high percentage of calm days and no rainfall."

The summary continues: "The mean temperature of 62.9 degrees was a degree and a half above normal. The morning observations showed a mean excess over normal of 3.6 degrees. On seven days a maximum temperature of over 80 degrees was recorded, 50 degrees was recorded twice, and the highest for the month, 93 degrees, was reached on the 21st. Sharp contrasts in the mean temperature from day to day were very noticeable, the instrumental record showing five occasions on which this difference amounted to more than 10 degrees—a large difference for this season, the mean difference for June, 1921, being 5 degrees, against a normal of 2.6 degrees.

"There was no precipitation, hence the seasonal total remains at 24.85 inches. The June normal being 0.20 inches, the total deficit for the season 1920-21 is 1.70 inches."

Alameda Clergyman
Is Home From Meet

ALAMEDA, July 9.—Rev. C. C. Wilson, pastor of the Congregational Church, returned yesterday from attending the National Council of the Congregational Churches in Los Angeles, and will give some interesting sidelights on the convention Sunday night in a special address.

Rev. Wilson's Congregationalism, its Attitude Toward Great World Problems" will be the minister's subject. He has completed his month's vacation and will be at home the remainder of the season. He will be in his pulpit Sunday morning, speaking on the subject, "The Silence of God."

Fire Near Sequoia Park Under Control

GIANT FOREST, SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, July 9.—With the aid of volunteers from Visalia, a forest fire which has been raging four days at Colony Mills, seven miles from here, was placed under control today. The flames, starting from a campfire, destroyed a hundred acres of valuable pine timber.

A fire near Hospital Rock in the south forest is still reported burning fiercely, but Southern California Edison employees who are fighting it expect to see it under control today.

Bicycle Rider Badly Injured by Auto

Veno Gwerber of 1059 Seventeenth avenue, was taken to an emergency hospital suffering from a dislocated shoulder, and possible fractures of the shoulder, clavicle and ribs following an accident in which he was run down by an automobile while riding on his bicycle.

Gwerber was taken to the hospital by C. F. Moore of 3343 East Fourteenth street and was later transferred to the Providence hospital. His condition is serious. He was unconscious when picked up.

Chicago Priest Will Deliver Two Sermons

Sermons at St. Francis de Sales church, Grove and Hobart streets, tomorrow will be delivered by Rev. Father Siedenburg, S. J., of Chicago. Father Siedenburg is a member of the Society of Jesus in America, and is at present conducting the spiritual retreats for the clergy of the San Francisco arch-diocese. He will deliver sermons at the 11 and 12 o'clock masses.

FIGHT MILK PRICES.

LONDON, July 9.—The strike of women in the Deal district against the present high price of milk is spreading. Mrs. James Kerr, leader of the strikers, said the Housewives' Union was out to bring the milk producers to reason, and to continue the agitation until they were successful in reducing the present price.

STANFORD HEADS CLASS.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 9.—Eric Jordan was elected summer chairman of the sophomore class as a result of a caucus taken by Miss Alice Roth, vice-president of the class. This is the first time in the history of the university that a sophomore class has had an organization during the summer quarter. The sophomores plan to give a dance later in the quarter. Jordan is the son of Chancellor Emeritus David Starr Jordan.

NOISELESS STATIONS.

LONDON, July 9.—Silent railway stations are a boon promised in the early future. Sir Ernest Birch, speaking in the Royal Agricultural Hall, said that the noise and turmoil on railway stations could easily be obviated by rubber covered platforms.

Alameda Police Are Asked to Locate Alise Seebeck, With a Taste for Adventure and Deficit in Responsibility

ALAMEDA, July 9.—Alise Madison Seebeck, 16, blond and petite, is seeking new adventures, taking her foster-mother's automobile with her this time. Yesterday Mrs. Seebeck sent Alise to Oakland with her automobile to get some spare parts that had been ordered for repairs. This morning Mrs. Seebeck reported to the police her daughter had not returned. The last report of her Mrs. Seebeck had was that a friend had been her riding on "the marsh" with a party of young friends yesterday afternoon.

Two weeks ago, on June 24, Alise left home on another adventure, packing a suitcase with her prettiest clothes she journeyed to the home of William Burbank, 1247 Seventy-sixth avenue, Oakland, where she told a story of having been sent to live with an aunt while her mother was off on a business trip. Arriving at the aunt's home, she found the aunt had gone on a camping trip, she said.

Mrs. Burbank received Alise into her home and kept her for two days while the police of the Eastbay searched high and low for her. She was finally located by Policewoman Angelina Vaughn of the Alameda police.

Eastbay police are casting about among the friends of Miss Alise for a trail that may lead them to her whereabouts.

W. P. VALUE SET
AT $66,730,011
BY GOVERNMENT

Figures Surprise in Light of High Book Price by Railway.

Tentative valuation of the Western Pacific Railroad was placed at $66,730,011 in figures released by the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington today. The estimation was a surprise in financial circles as the road's capitalization is $172,720,512 and the railroad in its general balance sheet claims investment in road and equipment to be $156,318,400.

These book figures are attacked by the Federal Board, the Commission commenting in part as follows:

The account requires adjustment. Some items should be entirely excluded, some reduced in amount and some new items included. The account is made up in large part of the value of securities at par exchanged for property which was not included and which was of value unknown and in part charges for land, the cost of which cannot be allocated as being carrier and non-carrier land.

The balance of the account and deduction of the amount of capital stock the carrier exchanged for unappraised property of seven predecessor companies, would leave the carrier indebted to the Government $715,093. This sum would be taken as the actual investment of the carrier in existing road and equipment and is the nearest sum obtainable.

The commission announced their tentative valuations on various railroad road properties as follows:

Grand Canyon, operating in Arizona, $1,359,398.
Central of Oregon, $114,450.
Riverside, Rialto & Pacific, operating in California, $311,488.

House Sees Month More on Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, July 9.—In repl.

to a letter from J. W. Harrimon of the Harriman National Bank of New York saying that full— 52 of the bank's depositors "are clamoring to know why Congress does not do something with regard to the reduction of taxation." Representative

Mondell, Republican House leader, in a letter says that Congress is makin as rapid progress as could be expected an expressed the opinion that the House would not do it.

the House would conclude its consideration of the tax bill "not later than the middle of August."

"Is the inactivity of Congress the result of natural ineptitude or a feeture of a deliberate reconstruction program?" Harriman asked. "There can be no improvement in the business world until taxes are reduced. The present situation is

The present stagnation in trade really a strike against government confiscation."

HEAVY DEMAND IN CANTALOUPE CLEARERS MARKET

Tomatoes Advance to a High Figure Under Good Call and Hot Spell.

Vigorous trading was experienced in the Oakland commission market today on melons, chiefly cantaloupes. Under the demand there was a continuous strong tone and the market was pretty well cleaned up for the week end in many stalls. Prices ruled around $3.50.

Early offerings of Turkey melons were on hand, but only $3 was asked on standard crates, the melons being somewhat green.

Another week should see steady Turkey shipments of considerable size and prices are expected to rule below the Imperial melons because of the freight differential. At present Turkey melons are insufficient in quantity to ship by carload and have been moved in small lots.

Watermelons which were actively traded in brought prices averaging above 3 cents a pound.

Tomatoes have advanced to high figures under strong demand and hot weather. Merced tomatoes are arriving in increasing quantities and those of these offerings brought as much as $3.50. Southern tomatoes sold in crates today as high as $4.50 and large went as high as $5. Continuance of strong tomato demand is expected.

Efforts of peach growers continue to attract attention in relation to this year's canner pack. Canners resist efforts to obtain more than $35 a ton, resolutions of growers in some sections to withhold fruit if better offers are not received, notwithstanding. According to commission men here growers of clingstone peaches are increasing quantities and those of these offerings brought as much as $3.50. Southern tomatoes sold in crates today as high as $4.50 and large went as high as $5. Continuance of strong tomato demand is expected.

Some asparagus growers still continue to cut in river areas, although cutting after July 1 is held harmful to the patches and in unusual there were 25 boxes delivered by one grower today and comprised nearly the whole delivery to this market. The price was 10 cents straight, at which figure the offering was quickly sold. Now that asparagus is nearly gone, buyers seem to have revived some of their old interest, an interest which at present is lacking in the late days of the cut.

MUSIC TEACHERS OF STATE PRAISE
LOCAL PROGRAMPledge Co-operation of Body for Community Service Plan.

Co-operation with and support of the community service program, of music, as framed by the Community Service, Inc., was pledged by the Music Teachers' Association of California, which adjourned the eleventh annual convention today in this city. The outline of community choruses, orchestras, bands, memory contests, surveys and music work proposed was designated as "revolutionizing the entire music profession" and a large factor in building up the art in all its phases.

The final day of the annual meeting was given over to the hearing of reports and technical work which had to do with the association. The session was held at Hotel Oakland. The Public School Music committee has saved hundreds of dollars to the state board of education this year, according to the report of the chairman, Miss Florine Wenzel, Sacramento, quoting Mrs. Arnes Itay, member of the state board. The department continued by vote of the convention body.

STATE PLAN ADVISED.
Originally appointed to investigate the status of music and systems of granting credits, the work of the committee culminated in the presentation of the following recommendations to the California state board of education:

- (1) Opportunity to high school students of majoring in music.
- (2) Creation of a music commissioner to be a member of the state board.
- (3) Uniformity of credits and music courses in the high schools of the state.
- (4) Credits for study with private teachers.
- (5) Employment of greater numbers of music specialists.
- (6) Special training courses in music in institutions recognized by the state board of education.
- (7) Class instruction rather than private urged in classroom.
- (8) Additional requirements for credit in applied music, including harmony, music history and appreciation.

ISSUE URGED FOR BALLOT.
Increase in membership dues from $2 to $4 annually was proposed for placement on the annual ballot. The movement was initiated by Mrs. Sofia Newland, Napa, president of the Alameda County Association. The fund will be divided as follows: according to the amendment: State association, $250; convention fund, $1; local retain the balance.

Creation of the "convention fund," by collecting in ratio to membership in the local organizations, was urged as a means of meeting the necessary expenses of the annual meeting.

BRANCH SURVEYS.
Branch associations made surveys of the year's work as follows: Alameda county, Mrs. Sofia Newland; Los Angeles, Miss Eva Frances Pike; Redlands, Charles H. Marsh; Sacramento, Miss Florine Wenzel; Santa Clara county, Miss Mary Fisher for Mrs. David Galt; San Diego, Miss Nell Cave; San Francisco, Mrs. Alvina Heuer Wilson for Frank Carroll Giffen.

A music survey of Los Angeles by nineteen select committees appointed by the local committee, with "A Finer Los Angeles" the slogan, was reported completed by Miss Pike.

INSURANCE FOR FAMILIES URGED

Each man in the United States should take out a life insurance policy for his wife or dependent relatives, Professor Griffin Lovelace, Dean of the Department of Insurance at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, declared in the talk on "Practical Principles of Insurance" before the Oakland Optimists' Club at the weekly luncheon at a downtown cafe. Professor Lovelace urged that businessmen preach the gospel of the value of insurance to men who would have no other means of providing for their families should death occur.

While Professor Lovelace is in no way connected with an insurance firm, he is recognized as one of the three authorities on insurance in the United States.

During his short talk the professor gave statistics on almost every kind of insurance in existence today. While the value of life and accident insurance is gradually becoming apparent, Professor Lovelace declared that only half of the business and professional men today have taken out any insurance. He said that there was more suffering caused because of failure of men to take out life insurance than any other one thing in the business world.

R. C. Bitterman, president of the club, presided.

adjournment. The participants followed: Miss Virginia de Bromery, A. C. M. T. A. organizer; Mrs. Edward Pease, Sacramento; M. T. A. organizer; Gerard Thallander, A. C. M. T. A. organizer; Helen Almondinger, A. C. M. T. A. controller; W. H. Kennedy, Santa Clara M. T. A. organizer.

Operetta's Premiere Reveals
Composing Skill of Teachers

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

Of program music and song the substance or style. The subsequent association of California already had given example. It remained for them last evening to display an ability at longer composition as well, and they acquitted themselves in good fashion at the Hotel Oakland, where the operetta "The Picture Bride," a one-act operetta, its music by Josephine Crew Aylwin for a libretto by Marion Cunningham.

The story is simple—that of a Japanese maid whose escape from being the picture bride of a rich merchant across the sea is achieved when her lover sells his floral chief d'oeuvre for enough gold to win her father's consideration, especially so, since his other daughter's betrothal to the distant merchant has been arranged through the craft of a canny nurse. Mrs. Aylwin's setting was admirably simple; occasionally Oriental in flavor, but more often eclectic. The brief overture was preparatory in mood rather than in

Husband Sought to Kill Her, Wife Says

Charging that her husband threatened to kill her, knocked her down, over, called her vile names, tried to shoot her with a revolver and then attempted to stab her with a knife, Mrs. Elsie Weichert today filed suit against Charles Weichert for divorce. She asks the custody of the children, and all the community property, consisting of land valued at $1500, and a $4000 interest in the Sacramento Pressed Brick company.

They were married January 25, 1907, and separated December 19, 1920.

BOY SCOUTS IN CAMP EAT BY
THE TON AND GAL.Army and Navy Officers From Presidio Instruct in Many Lines.

An excellent indicator of the "whooping-big" appetites Boy Scouts are maintaining in their health-living in Camp Sheak. Dimond Canyon, is contained in a statistical report, issued today.

There are 175 boys in the second camp, which opened July 5. Here is what they ate and drank in one week.

Three hundred and fifty large loaves of bread, 420 gallons of milk, over one ton of different kinds of meat, the same weight of vegetables, 21 sacks of "spuds," 215 gallons of ice cream and 525 cakes of different assortment.

The camp will close on July 15, making a session of 14 days. The above figures are for one week.

The cooking is done by the army cooks from the Presidio, who admit they are mighty tired at the end of the day.

But eating is only a very small part of what the Boy Scouts do at Camp Sheak. At the present camp there are twenty instructors from the Army and Navy, who instruct the boys in 40 courses, 32 of which are not taught in the public schools. Among two of the important courses are those of wireless and gunnery. There is a rifle range of which daily use is made by the boys.

Much of the work of the first camp is being duplicated in the second. A class in pioneering is building a fifty-foot wooden crane, without using a nail. Only rope and trees will be used in the entire structure. A fifteen-foot suspension bridge will be built in the same manner.

On land and sea the boys have proved themselves proficient. In the first camp 37 boys who have never learned to swim learned before the end of the two weeks. It is a record few camps have equaled in Boy Scout world. The present camp will beat this record, it is believed.

Macaroni Maker Is Fined Under Food Law

Police Judge Mortimer Smith today fined G. Martini, proprietor of the Oakland Macaroni company, $10 on two charges of violating the state pure food act. He is alleged to have adulterated macaroni and noodles. The judge fined him $5 on each charge. He was arrested by Food Inspector G. Wray on June 29.

COMPLAINTS LACKING

Because complaints were not filed against John McCreely and James Verbeck, who were arrested last night for interfering with an officer, and secretary inspector, at a fight morning by Police Judge Mortimer Smith. They were arrested at Twelfth and Broadway while watching a motorcycle accident.

Oakland Men to Discuss
Bay Bridge Plan Aspects

With a session of the general bridge committee set for Tuesday or Wednesday, and a meeting of the Oakland business clubs planned for Friday, the bridge-the-bay movement next week is to be given an impetus toward the accomplishment of the plans recommended by Ralph Modjeski and John Vipond Davies.

The Oakland meeting is called for a general discussion of the project as it appeals to the east side of the bay. All of the Oakland business clubs have been asked to join with the One Hundred Per Cent club at a joint luncheon on Friday at the Hotel Oakland. F. E. Miller, Orrin Chamblin, P. T. Page and Donald McClure are members of the committee. Ralph Modjeski and John Vipond Davies are the principal speakers.

The Hundred Per Cent club yesterday went on record as being behind the bridge movement in the city. It will benefit Oakland and the east side of the bay. Walter Hesse, president of the Alameda County Auto Trade Association, said that the main point now was one of such a nature that eventually the bridge must end somewhere in West Oakland.

Chairman Richard J. Welch of the general conference committee will call his next meeting on Tuesday or Wednesday. It will be held in the city hall in San Francisco, with representatives from all of the counties about the bay present.

ALAMEDANS INTERESTED IN BAY BRIDGE PLANS.
ALAMEDA, July 9.—Publication of the bridge plans as conceived by Ralph Modjeski and John Vipond Davies has started a discussion here that may result in a conference of citizens. What Alamedans would know is whether or not the approach to the bridge cuts right through the naval base site, and whether traffic from this city would have to go first toward Oakland in order to reach the bridge.

Possibility of governmental objection to the plans was seen today by E. C. Soules, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

"As I interpret the plans and maps," said Soules, "the eastern approach to the bridge cuts right through the naval base site, and I doubt very much if the navy department will give its consent to such a course for the fill and trestle. It would divide the naval base site almost in two. Some critics will say, 'Well, Alameda, isn't going to get the naval base, that ought to be an argument.' Alameda isn't worrying about the naval base. We may not get the naval base this year or next year—but when a naval base is built on the Pacific coast, this year or twenty years from now, it's going to be built at Alameda in the site given to the government by the City of Alameda. No sane man doubts for a minute that eventually the American Navy will have to have a supply base on the Pacific coast, so it is idocy to pretend to eliminate that consideration."

Vice-President Seekers
Are Recalled in Queries

The old tradition about the vice-president's job being an obscure one seems to have been upset by the contributors to the query column today. An Oakland reader of THE TRIBUNE sends in the following questions to the information Bureau:

"Who were the vice-presidential candidates in the following years: 1900 with Bryan, in 1912 with Taft and in 1916 with Hughes?"

The vice-presidential candidates for those years were as follows:

In 1900, with Bryan, Adlai E. Stevenson; in 1908 with Bryan, John W. Kern; in 1912, with Taft, Nicholas Butler; in 1916, with Hughes, Charles W. Fairbanks.

Chief Places Slayer
Back On S. F. Force

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Martin Kahley, policeman, who shot and killed Albert O. Braun, Los Angeles businessman, recently, was today restored to duty by Chief of Police O'Brien.

Kahley shot and killed the businessman as he drove into a garage in the Richmond district. A coroner's jury exonerated him.

Kahley will be tried for manslaughter August 4. The police commission will hear charges against him soon.

FORMER OAKLAND
POSTAL CLERK IS HELD FOR FORGERYJohn W. Brennan Arrested in Texas City for Passing
Bogus Money Orders

John W. Brennan, alias "Red" Brennan, former clerk in a branch postoffice station in Oakland was arrested today in San Antonio, Texas, according to telegraphic advices received by Postal Inspector S. H. Morse after a spectacular career during which he is alleged to have passed more than a score of forged money orders.

Disappearing March 15, 1921, from Oakland, Brennan is accused of having stolen a pad of money order blanks. He first went to Sacramento where, it is charged, he passed four, filling out amounts to suit himself. Next he was heard of in Denver where fourteen of the money orders were successfully slipped through. New Orleans was the third city and it too was flooded with the spurious paper. Meantime postal inspectors had warned all of the southern cities and today when, it is supposed, Brennan made an attempt to pass one of the money orders through San Antonio, he was caught.

Postal Inspector Ray Cauley of Sacramento will go to San Antonio to bring back the prisoner. He will probably be tried in Sacramento.

Turkish Leader Sends
British Arrogant Note

LONDON, July 9.—(By the Associated Press).—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalists, has sent a note to the British foreign office saying he is willing to negotiate the Near East situation, but he imposes what are characterized in official circles here as arrogant and impossible terms.

His terms include complete Turkish control of Constantinople, and the Straits and a return of Thrace, Smyrna and other territories to Turkey. In fact the terms virtually amount to the status quo ante bellum in regard to Turkey, both in Europe and in Asia Minor.

Mustapha Kemal's message, according to officials here, completely distorts the fact regarding a proposed meeting with General Harrington, commander of the allied forces in Constantinople, the Nationalist leader saying he is willing to accept the British suggestion for a meeting, whereas no such suggestion has ever been made by the British. Mustapha Kemal also states he is willing to negotiate, whereas the fact regarding a proposed meeting with General Harrington, commander of the allied forces in Constantinople, the Nationalist leader saying he is willing to accept the British suggestion for a meeting, whereas no such suggestion has ever been made by the British.

Sir Walter Raleigh Had a Bright Idea

YOU remember the episode of the rainy day when he threw his cloak into a puddle that the good queen might cross without getting wet feet and perhaps the flu. That was advertising. Sir Walter had a message of import to her majesty. He wanted a hearing. He got it—by a courteous and ingenious method of attracting favorable attention. It was another case of advertising that paid both ways.

Business today is metaphorically throwing its cloak before you. It seeks your favorable attention. It uses its most effective method of capturing it—advertising. Day after day it caters to your tastes, and your desires through advertising.

The men who advertise in this paper believe that if they succeed in getting their messages across to you, you will often be interested and sometimes inspired with a little of their own enthusiasm for their wares.

Advertising will help you. Whether you realize it or not, advertising is a big vital force in your life. Through it, American genius and American manufacturers are putting within your reach the many boons of modern life.

Advertising keeps your information up to date on every article of human need, whether food, clothing, articles of household utility, necessities or luxuries.

Advertisers deserve your support. The queen knighted Sir Walter.
